

Carry-All Extension Kit

Carry all your RIPACK EQUIPMENT in one secure case

To add to the extensive line of Ripack accessories, comes the Ripack Carry-All extension kit. This system was designed for the user that is on-the-go, needing a protective case to hold all the Ripack equipment in a secure, easy to carry unit.

The Carry-All is made from high impact plastic with multi-layered foam inserts to hold and protect the operator's Ripack heat gun, extensions and accessories. Every piece has a cut-out location so parts are not forgotten and left behind at a job. There is even extra space for additional tools and spare parts so the user can carry everything they need for the most demanding projects. The case is airline ready with metal latches in four places and high impact protective hinges that will hold up to even the toughest handling.
